

event based time and place matchmaking social network

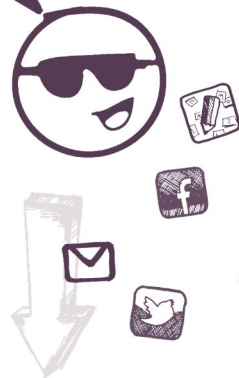

happen

The main advantage of our application is the possibility to organize a meeting and add it into a personal calendar in a very easy and intuitive way. Each event has its time, place, participants and it is a part of user's profile. It is possible to vote for each element of the event like the time and the place suggestions and thus express preferences about the event.

Let's make it happen together!

event concept

Creating event is very simple and quick and it is not even necessary to set time of the event, neither the place. The only attribute that has to be set is the name of the event.

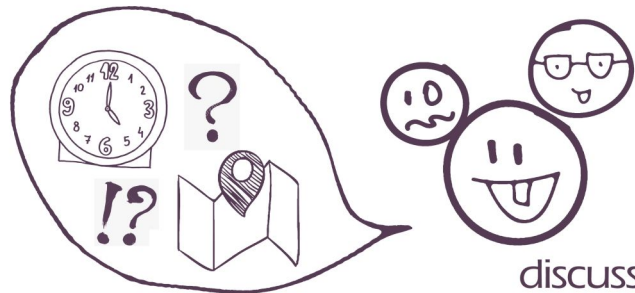

share

Share your events not only with your friends on Happen. You can use email or other social networks to let them know about your plans and future activities.

settle the event

We focus on life cycle of event as it starts with suggestions of time and places and goes on with refinement. It may take a while and many iterations until few people make agreement on time and place of the meeting. We simplify this process making it intuitive with no need of long texting.

discuss & suggest

We've looked at the problem of time management and event planning from different point of view than existing solutions. After the event is created, invited users may add suggestions of time and meeting place and vote for suggestions they like.

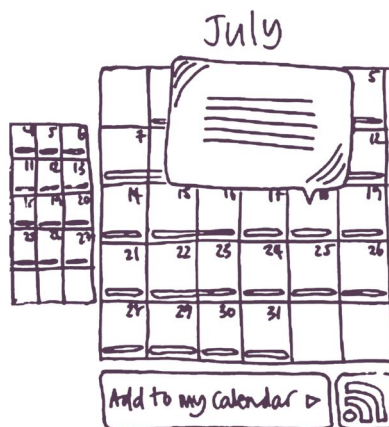

reserve

Boost your business thanks to Happen. Allow your customers to arrange a meeting & reserve your time for them. It's simple and easy for both of you.

follow & be followed

Keep in touch with your friends so you will not miss any event. You can also follow all the stuff you are interested in to know about upcoming events.

Free version is mainly focused on common users therefore is available for everyone. It includes a user's profile page through which user browses through his events as well as the events and the calendars of other users.

Business account

is intended for users who would be interested in getting closer to their customers by sharing and suggesting their own special events. These events will be served as offers in other events. Reservations through their profile are available as well.

Enterprise version

deals with time management and is tailor-made for specific needs. It contains calendar which is supposed to be used for managing human resources.